First Document

Myself

October 4, 2006

The title field can be replaced with text of your choice. Similarly author and date. Notice that the `\today` command give today's date. This is the date this document is complied.

1 First

This is my first section. I am typing some dummy text here which will be repeated and don't bother about the content. I am typing dummy text here which will be repeated and don't bother about the content.

2 Second

Although not required, to get a good source code, it is good idea to keep each sentenses separated by % indicating comment. For, example this is sepated from the previous sentence by % sign. This will be treated as one paragraph. This is another line, part of the same paragraph.

But this is a different paragraph since it is separated from the previous by a bew line character. This forms my second section. The next will be my last section.

3 Last

This is my last section. After, this, I saved my file and complied to get a pdf file.